One of the largest and most well-preserved sites of Roman architecture in the world outside of Italy and is now generally acknowledged to be one of the best-preserved Roman provincial towns in the world. Having been hidden for centuries in sand, excavations restorations over the past 70 years have revealed a fine example of the grand, formal provincial Roman urbanism that is found throughout the Middle East, comprising paved and colonnaded streets, soaring hilltop temples, handsome theatres, spacious public squares and plazas, baths, fountains and city walls pierced by...
towers and gates. Leaving Jerash behind, we’ll head to the capital city Amman where we’ll have time for a short city tour.

Day 9  Monday  Petra

After an early breakfast in Amman today, we’ll drive to Petra, the ancient capital of the Nabataean commercial empire until the Romans finally took over in 106 AD. Petra was largely forgotten, except by the local Bedouins, until it was ‘discovered’ in 1812 by a young Swiss explorer, Johann Ludwig Burckhardt. Petra is situated on the edge of Wadi Aruba, whose canyon walls and surrounding hills make it almost impossible to approach except through a narrow, winding cleft in the rock, called the Siq. The Nabateans chose to carve their homes, buildings and tombs into the multi-coloured sandstone cliffs.

This afternoon we take a guided tour, then free time to explore. We start by walking through the Siq, which rises to 200m above us, and narrows to just 2m wide in places. The ancient Nabatean water channel can still be seen on one wall, as well as some remnants of the terracotta pipes that brought water into the city. All of a sudden, a now classic view appears around one corner, and one of Petra’s most impressive monuments, the Khazneh (Treasury) comes into view. From the Khazneh, the valley opens out, with tombs carved into the rock on both sides. We’ll see the ruined Roman amphitheatre, and colonnaded street, and during your free time you can walk up a steep and narrow winding gorge past beautifully coloured sandstone cliff walls to the huge and imposing ‘Monastery’. Another climb can take you to the High Place of Sacrifice, and Lion Fountain.

We’ll also enjoy great views of the Holy Land from Mt. Nebo, known as the burial place of the prophet Moses. In the afternoon we’ll cross the Jordan/Israel border and return to Tel Aviv where we’ll be spending our final night.
